Jessica and Travis are great people! They are extremely professional, knowledgeable, and polite. I went with their SB3 5 year Ceramic Coating including a 2 step paint correction (they were able to remove what i called a deep scratch) on my Camaro and couldn't be happier! They came to my house to evaluate the car and provide an estimate. Once the appointment day arrived, they picked up my car and brought it back after it was finished. That's what I call service! I also had my windshield coated and I don't even need my wipers when it rains, the water just rolls right off. I'm glad I could support a local small business and will definitely be using them again. Highly recommended!

I am a very happy, new customer of Final Approach Detailing. From the moment I reached out via email and quickly received a super-friendly, professional and knowledgeable response, I knew I was working with the right people. Simply put, the 5 star customer service I received was unparalleled. Jessica and Travis set expectations high, then proceeded to over-deliver. From beginning to end I felt totally comfortable that my vehicle was in the right hands and I could trust that it be cared for properly. I loved that all my questions were answered with 100% confidence and my time was always respected. I knew exactly which products, services and options I would be paying for along with their benefits. My vehicle was finished when promised and I could not have been more satisfied with the results. I felt like I was part of the process the entire time. The icing on the cake was my car washing re-education. I was gently taken through and participated in washing my car utilizing a simple step by step procedure on how to obtain optimal results. The products, techniques and rational were all clearly explained as Jessica and Travis demonstrated best practices inside their shop. I was literally shown how I should be washing my car- this was priceless! Final Approach is the gold standard. The entire process could not have been easier, more efficient, professional, respectful, educational and friendly. Already booked an interior detail! Thanks so much for everything, you are the best!

Jess, Travis and Jared were all extremely professional, friendly and easy to work with. They were so detail oriented and my car looks amazing. So glad they got it cleaned up inside and out for the holiday guests in town! I have never had a professional interior detail and I can't believe how good it looks! I love showing it off to everyone. Thanks so much!!

I had three of my cars ceramic coated and I am thrilled with the results. There was no pressure on the sales side of things and they set me up with three different packages based on what I wanted for each car.

Travis and Jessica treat everyone like they are the most important person They do excellent work that surpasses any ceramic coating and polishing that I have ever seen. They deliver the best product and the best customer service that I have ever seen. Yet we will recommend them to everyone we know.

Travis and Jessica did an amazing job detailing both of our vehicles inside and out. They were timely and they even returned our vehicles back to our home when finished. We would and have recommended them to our friends and family.

I absolutely loved the work that Final Approach detailing did on my car! There were stains on my car floor and seats that I never thought would come out but they got them out! They met and exceeded my expectations and I would 10/10 recommend them to anyone I know. I will definitely be going back if I ever need to get my car detailed again.

Jessica & Travis are awesome!

I found Final Approach via a Google search, and what a find it was. I had mistakenly damaged my paint pretty good through improper care. I thought I was doing the cleaning/waxing correctly but was I wrong! And of course I have an all black car.

Final Approach offers various levels of service for exterior detailing (I didn't need any interior work). After my consultation with Jessica, we decided on a 50-70% defect removal with a 1 year entry-level ceramic coating.

They needed the car for two days to complete the detailing. When I picked it up, it looked brand new. The scratches & swirl marks were gone and I could no longer see the deeper scratches. I had this done in January 2020, so I had to drive it home in the lovely salt-covered roads...that was hard to do!

I would HIGHLY recommend Final Approach to take care of your vehicle, whether it's a one-time service or on an ongoing basis. They also sell car care products so if you're a do-it yourselfer like me, you can use their expertise to help you select what you need to maintain your vehicle,

Finally, they put on various workshops to educate us on how to care for your car. I haven't been to any yet, but do plan on attending them so I can maintain my car properly.

I hope this review helps in your decision!

The customer service is very, very good. They came out to the house, evaluated the finish on my Yukon XL, then taped off an area to show the results a couple different levels of service and provided an estimate. My truck is a 2016 that's been on the road for five and a half years and just turned 100K miles...and many trips through the car wash...and it's black! The paint was really more of a very, very dark gray with lots of surface scratches. Well, they came and picked up the vehicle and when they brought it back the next day all of the surface scratches were gone! I'm am certain that the finish did not look this good when it was new...and it's black! The pictures pretty much tell the story. They also provided pictures as they stepped through the finishing processes. They are prompt (how often have you called a contractor and they're late or a no show?) and very professional and know their craft. The only down side is it's a bit pricey...but in order to get these kind of results, you're going to need to pay the price...you do get what you pay for. And keep in mind, I had two step paint correction and ceramic coating on about an acre of sheet metal, so your mileage may vary.

The folks at Final Approach are first rate. To quantify the experience: quality over quantity. I may be a lay person when it comes to cars, but there's a clear difference in their level of work and you get what you pay for and then some, in my opinion.

Regarding customer service I think this is easily the best experience I've ever had period. They're prompt, professional, and relatable. There's a lot of educating going on too and they put all the cards on the table and really push for educating their customer base about their services and the pros AND cons of everything offered. This kind of TLC you won't see in bigger chains; it's really a rare experience. It's family owned and you can see the love they put into their work.

I'd wholeheartedly direct anyone who wants their car looking tip top to Final Approach Detailing, be it for a quick flip to get a car ready for a sale, or making your car more future proof to retain resale value in the future.

I just bought my first ever brand new car and had Final Approach do a ceramic coating on it. I wanted to make sure it is well protected from the elements because I drive a lot for work, often on dirt roads. The knees, Travis and Jessica came to my house to evaluate my car's needs and made suggestions for my long term protection goals. I chose to have them ceramic coat all of the painted surfaces as well as my wheels; windshield and sun roof. The paint and wheels look terrific and the rain rolls off my windshield while driving so I barely need to use my wipers. I plan to keep this car for quite a long time and will continue to use Final Approach to help me keep it in good condition. I couldn't be happier with them
